(HIMSELF)

TO OUR FRIENDS—permit me to lay some facts before you—let me ask for your co-operation—you have lived in Muscatine for many years, many of you—you have seen your town grow from a small one to a good sized one—you have seen it slide backwards from about EIGHTEEN AND ONE-HALF THOUSAND TO SIXTEEN AND ONE-HALF THOUSAND—a loss of TWO THOUSAND—who fought the city—who did the most to cause a condition of discontent—the Journal or Norman Baker?—I spent a fortune in Muscatine, they spent nothing but what was necessary to make money off you—they have not one monument to show for their loyalty if they ever had it—to make matters worse—there are some merchants in Muscatine who continue to advertise their wares in other papers and REFUSE US COPY—that means that they think "To the devil with you, the Midwest stockholders, subscribers and readers"—it's an insult to you and your community—think of it—sticking to those who tore down your city by working against the majority in practically everything public spirited thing they wanted—there is one thing to do RETURN THE INSULT—and refuse to advertise those who continue to do it.

8669—that's the NET TOTAL PAID CIRCULATION of this paper on Aug. 2nd—going some 15,000 soon and then watch this propaganda be broken down—against the FARMERS, LABORERS and CITY FOLKS—every new sub. you send us—means a JOLT IN THE SOLAR PLEXUS of our competitor—that's about 1,000 ahead of the Journal.

TOO BAD—folks extend your sympathy—the Journal, who has fought everything the majority wanted in Muscatine, now trail BEHIND WITH ABOUT 1,000 lower circulation than this paper—that shows that people are not always sleeping—that they won't stand for papers that work against them—some merchants who stick to the old ship and refuse to advertise in our columns, will awaken some day also—watch and see—they are combined against us now—but other combines have been broken and IGNORED WITH LOSS to them—time TELLS ALL THINGS.

CONGRESS—the next session will be a heavy one for them—so say the politicians in their press stories—NOT SO—play less politics and get down to rock bottom business methods and IT WILL BE EASY—quit wasting so much time bothering about CROP SURPLUSES which they cannot do anything about that is advantageous to the farmer—come out in the opening of the Fall Session and say "Farmers, we can't help you by laws or politics, you must help yourself—get into one farm organization, don't let anyone join it but farmers, and you will get along nicely, make your own way, become master of all you survey just as LABOR HAS DONE BY HAVING ONLY ONE ORGANIZATION for each trade."

ENGLISH—I would like to see some of you folks there speaking and big meeting will be held a half miles from the meeting a TEST WILL come—everybody—city folks alike.

PEERS—about the worst fellow who scouts around with a sympathetic argument to get into a church and entices a few deluded ones—for CHURCH ADVERTISEMENTS.—the ministers of this—they do not advocate the commercializing on religion—such money is uselessly spent.

COUNCIL TAKES NO ACTION ON CUTS IN WAGES

Finance Committee's Recommendation Is Not Acted Upon

Thursday evening took action upon the recommendation of the finance committee regarding the cuts in two of the city hall employees' salaries, awarded the contract for supplying coal for use in the city hall, the fire stations and Greenwood cemetery chapel, accepted reports of the street commissioner and finance committee, voted to improve several streets and alleys and decided to adjourn until Monday at 7 p. m. when three ordinances will be considered.

The recommendations of the finance committee would reduce the salary of Miss May Easter, assistant city recorder $15 per month and A. G. Haigh, roofer at the city hall $15 per month. The recommendation was at first included in the committee's report but following objections from other aldermen, it was detached and made a separate report.

Mayor Called Away
Before the report was read Mayor Thompson had been called from the meeting to the water and light company's office and Alderman Henry Mathiesen of the fourth ward occupied the chair.

Alderman M. Barr, of the finance committee, who made both the motions that the salaries be reduced at the last meeting of the committee, told the council that he wished to say a few words regarding the recommendation but preferred to wait the return of the mayor. The mayor did not return until after the council had adjourned, and consequently no discussion was held. The matter will probably come up at the next regular meeting of the council.

The finance committee's report showed expenditures of $5,505.74. The report of the street commissioner showed expenditures of $1,275.70 for the quarter.

Coal Contract Awarded
F. H. Bonke was awarded the contract to furnish coal to the city's buildings. His bid was $4.91 per ton for 200 tons of West Kentucky lump coal and $4.73 per ton for 88 tons of Montgomery county lump coal. His bid was the lowest of three received. Other bidders were the Reliable Coal company and the W. G. Block company.

It was decided to send the mayor, the city collector and the recorder to the city hall and the recorder to the city hall.

MYSTERY PLANE HOP CONTINUES

Cramer Lands His Oil Burning Airship in Iceland

REYKJAVIK, Iceland.—(INS)—Another achievement of aeronautical science and human skill was recorded today when Parker Cramer, American aviator, brought his oil-burning monoplane down at this chilly northern capital after a seven-hour flight over the Atlantic from Angmagssalik, Greenland.

Cramer reached Reykjavik at 3:55 a. m. today (10:55 p. m. last night E. D. T.), having left Angmagssalik, at 2 p. m., yesterday (9 a. m. E. D. T.).

With Cramer was Oliver Paquette, Canadian radio operator. The two started, unannounced, from Detroit, July 28 to blaze a northeast air mail route to Copenhagen and central European points via Greenland, Iceland and other intermediate places.

One of the outstanding features of Cramer's flight from Detroit was the successful use of an oil-burning engine. All previous ocean flyers have used special flight gasoline, but Cramer used ordinary crude oil, such as that employed on ocean liners.

It was said that had he been forced down for lack of fuel at some remote, bee-hive-like island village, he could have continued on oil extracted from whale blubber. As crude oil is not so sensitive to cold, it was said that it may prove better for Arctic flying than gasoline.

ALLEGED MEAT THIEF IS SHOT AT MORNING SUN

Charles Crawford Is Wounded in Hip by Avy Bowers

Charles Crawford, 40, in the left hip with a charge of shot from a shotgun, when he was allegedly attempting to steal a quantity of cured meat from the Avy Bowers' woodshed, about a half mile south of this city Thursday evening.

The Bowers family had been away from home early in the evening. They returned about 8:30 p. m. and Mr. Bowers heard a slight noise in the woodshed, which is close to the house. He made further investigation and discovered the light from a torch playing on the inside walls of the building. Mr. Bowers returned to the house and returned with his shotgun. He fired at Crawford when he was in the act of taking a quantity of meat from his accomplice who was clinging to the rafters of the woodshed to take the meat from its hanging place. The accomplice fled.

Mr. Bowers immediately called Sheriff George Oakes of Louisa county at Wapello. The wounded man was taken to the hospital at Burlington for treatment. Mr. and Mrs. Bowers accompanied the wounded man to the hospital. Hospital attendants assert that the wound would not prove serious.

Mr. Bowers declared that Crawford had about ten pieces of meat at his feet and another piece in his hands at the time of the shooting. The accomplice fled when the first shot was fired. Sheriff Oakes expects an early arrest of the accomplice. Charges against Crawford probably will be filed today.

Plan Alaska-Texas Non-Stop Air Hop

ton, Ill. Mr. Baker will bring his tanks loaded with gasoline, the trimotored airplane which will refuel the "Fort Worth," carrying Col. F. L. Robbins and Arthur Jones on what is believed to be a non-stop flight from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Fort Worth, Tex., was ready to takeoff at a moment's notice from the airport here today.

AKLAVIK, N. W. T.—(INS)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife left Fairbanks here today and will not be able to take off for some time.

AKLAVIK, Northwest Territory.—(INS)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were to continue today on their vacation flight to Tokyo, the weather permitting.

Fog, rain and wind persisted Thursday and during the night to detain them in this northern outpost of civilization. The Mackenzie river was hatched to such fury that even a takeoff in their amphibian plane would in itself have been hazardous.

CITY PLANS TO PROTEST RAISE IN VALUATIONS

Written Objections to Be Taken to State Board

City officials of Muscatine will protest the state board of equalization's efforts to increase valuation of property here 20 percent, it was decided at Thursday night's meeting of the city council. The mayor and city attorney were instructed to draw up a written protest and present it in person to the board. They will be accompanied to Des Moines by G. M. Titus. Members of the county board of supervisors will also protest the ruling, it was reported.

Talks regarding the increase were made before members of the council by L. R. McKee, president of the chamber of commerce, G. M. Titus and H. M. Bartlett. Both Mr. Bartlett and Mr. Titus urged the aldermen to learn what steps were to be taken by other cities who are also planning to protest the increase, and pattern their objections after those of the other localities. Mr. Bartlett told members of the council that Davenport especially has a well organized force working in connection with the city assessor, that is now gathering data to present before the state board.

As action must be taken before August 12, Mr. Bartlett urged representatives of the city to visit Davenport today, if possible, and then if it is deemed necessary, to go to Des Moines and obtain all possible information before drawing up the written protest.

DO-X CONTINUES NEW WORK HOP

Giant Air Liner Makes Good Headway Upon Long Flight

CAMOCIM, Brazil.—(INS)—Continuing its flight from Rio de Janeiro to New York on time table schedule, the seaplane DO-X left Camocim for Sao Luis, state of Maranhao, at 10:40 a. m. E. D. T. today.

The DO-X arrived at Camocim, in the state of Ceara, at 8:38 a. m. E. D. T. four hours and 21 minutes after leaving Natal. The Natal-Camocim jump was about 450 miles.

ABOARD SEAPLANE DO-X—Veering westward to skirt the jungle wilderness of northeastern Brazil, the seaplane DO-X took off from Natal at 5:15 a. m. today (4:15 a. m. E. D. T.) for Para, a distance of 1,150 miles, continuing its 100-mile hop from Rio de Janeiro to New York.

We planned to follow a route taking us over Camocim, Sao Luis, Maranhao and Belém before dropping down at Para to spend the night.

Despite the early hour of departure, all the passengers were awake and anxious to start before the huge ship's twelve motors were tuned up for the day's journey.

THREE AIRPLANES COLLIDE IN AIR

SELFREDGE FIELD, Mich.—(INS)—A near tragedy occurred today when three army airplanes collided in flight, crashing in mid-air a mile east of here. Two of the ships were sent hurtling to the ground, forcing the pilots to make parachute leaps to safety from a height of 4,000 feet.

Northland, blocked by fog and ice, holds the gas intended for the Lindbergh plane.

Another route the Lone Eagle and his wife might possibly follow is that over Central Alaska, direct to Nome, which is the hopping off place for the Orient.

A Little Advice to Women

I do not suppose anyone, with the exception of those employed at the Baker Hospital, can realize more than I, the terrible conditions that confront millions of women. It is that, and the things I see weekly, that forced me, in my feeble way, to give this warning to ALL WOMEN.

If every woman could walk with me for one week in my daily rounds, which bring me in contact with many women from all parts of the country, which make me read many, many letters from women now at home and suffering, I feel sure each and every woman would mount the house tops and shout as loud as I about the fallacies now perpetrated upon the feminine sex by organized medicine.

How well I realize how some may say that I am too insistent. I say no—you would say NO, if you knew what I know, have seen what I have. When I read of an editor, for instance like those at Wellman, Maquoketa, Manchester, Davenport, Muscatine, Cedar Rapids and others who SHOUT without knowledge of that which they preach about, it makes me realize the injustice OF IGNORANCE.

Let me mention a letter that came in this morning to the Baker Hospital, that I happened to see. It was from a woman from Minnesota (her name need not be given but the original letter will be shown to anyone interested)—it said that she was bothered with a lump in her breast—doctors diagnosed it as cancer—they cut it out—IT RETURNED—they cut it out again—IT RETURNED—now they want to cut it out again because it has RETURNED THE THIRD TIME—she asks the Baker Hospital, if they have anything to offer her in line of a treatment that will not require another operation.

Now contrast that with this letter:

Baker Hospital, Muscatine, Iowa. Gentlemen: My trouble was cancer of the breast, but my troubles are no more. I first noticed a small lump in my right breast about two years ago which grew rapidly. In September, I was examined by four doctors in Arizona, who advised me that I have an operation and have it removed. Having heard of the Baker Hospital through my relatives, I came here and was cured. I am so happy that I too can go home a well woman, and am glad that I am one who has escaped the use of the knife which I am positive would have done me no good.

I came to the Baker Hospital two weeks ago and was examined and was today discharged cured. I am so happy that I too can go home a well woman, and am glad that I am one who has escaped the use of the knife which I am positive would have done me no good.

I am going home and tell my friends of the wonderful things that the Baker Hospital is doing for the ones afflicted as I was. And hope to be the cause of others to come for the wonderful results I have received.

Yours very truly,
Mrs. C. W. Morrell,
Hartman, Colo.

From the above, ladies, what are your thoughts? Which would you prefer—three operations, or should rather say, that every breast cancer operated upon, RETURNS EVERY TIME, or a treatment that cures you of

2 MEN KIDNAP BANK OFFICIAL

Pair Seized by Police At Milwaukee Gas Station

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—(INS)—Two men were under arrest here today charged with the kidnaping of John Hough, said to be a purchasing agent for the Central Bank and Trust company of Chicago.

The men held gave their names as Roy Wallace, of the Bellevue hotel, Chicago, and Fred LaMarche of Seattle.

According to Hough, the two men got into his car when he stopped at Central and Chicago avenues in Chicago. Forcing Hough into the back seat, LaMarche took the wheel and Wallace kept Hough covered with a gun in the rear seat, Hough said.

"Well," one of the men said, "Just settle back and take it easy. You're going for a ride. We're going to Rhipland, Wis."

The kidnaping took place in Chicago at 10:30 Thursday night and LaMarche immediately started driving toward Milwaukee, when they reached here about midnight they stopped at a filling station for gasoline. Local police had just been notified of a holdup in the vicinity of the gas station. When they saw Hough's car, they peered into it.

"Get this man. He's got a gun. They're trying to kidnap me," Hough was reported to have shouted at the police.

Police seized the two men and took them to the station.

HENRY DOHERTY BUYS JOURNAL AT KANSAS CITY

Utilities Magnate Is Planning to Fight The Star

NEW YORK.—(INS)—Announcement was made at the office of Henry L. Doherty, oil and public utilities magnate, here today, that he had purchased a half interest in the Kansas City Journal-Post.

The announcement stated that the newspaper interest was purchased "in order to meet the Kansas City Star on an equal footing in its campaign against him and the interests of Cities Service company and its security holders."

The announcement given out here said that the purchase was announced in the columns of the Journal-Post today with publication of a letter sent by Doherty on Aug. 3 to three trustees of the Star, J. C. Nichols, Herbert B. Jones and former governor Arthur M. Hyde.

The Doherty announcement continued: "He (Doherty) states that 'unless the trustees assert that the present management of the Kansas City Star has breached their contract—and that all payments, are therefore, due, and enforce their payments, that in the event of any loss on the unpaid portion, that the trustees will be held liable for this.'"

Doherty called on the trustees to expel the present management of the Star, asserting that the sale to the present management was illegal. The trustees were appointed by the terms of the will of the late Col. W. R. Nelson, owner of the paper until his death in 1925.

Doherty's announcement stated that he had not sought control of the Journal-Post. His contract, he stated stipulates that ten percent of his half interest cannot be voted. He will act as special contributing editor with the right to have published as editorials anything he thinks proper, the announcement said. "He also has the right to buy or sell the paper at any time."

It is not yet public whether Doherty has assumed responsibility for both the editorials and paid statements, the provision being that they shall not be edited or censored.

"Control remains in the hands of W. Laurence Dickman and Marion B. Sharp the present management who have been associated with the paper for some time and in direct charge since the death last January."

'ALFALFA BILL' CONTROLS OIL

Oklahoma Fields Now Under Control of State Troops

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—(INS)—Governor William H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray and his loyal militiamen were today acknowledged masters of the situation in the Oklahoma oil fields.

At the same time, the executive declared himself immune to all forms of suasion. He said he had been offered $15,000 for campaign funds, in the event he desired to run for president, by certain interests.

"The interests wanted to control the oil on oil production," Governor Murray declared. "I turned it down. The offer was $8,000 a month for six months and $15,000 for the next six months."

"Alfalfa Bill" asserted he would rather retire to private life than have his hands tied.

Enforcement of the governor's shutdown order on all but the Stripper wells was virtually completed. It was believed the few wells which have not yet been closed would be out of operation by nightfall.

Operators in the Seminole district capitulated to the shutdown without waiting for the state troops to appear on their properties.

Meantime, attorneys for the major companies planned ways of combating Governor Murray's order, which is designed to raise the price of oil to at least $1 a barrel. Refineries continued to offer no more than 50 cents a barrel for oil and were dicker with Texas producers. Approximately 7,500 men have been thrown out of work by the shutdown.

Two New Features Will Start In the Free Press on Sunday

(By the Society Editor)

Ladies, we are sure you are going to like two new additions to our paper for you. We have tried since the Free Press started to build a page for you which will merit your daily interest. Now, I have grand news for you. We are going to add two new features to the women's page beginning Thursday afternoon. One of these features will continue indefinitely and the other—but I am getting ahead of my story.

The continuous feature has to do with styles—and I know you are going to love the up-to-date information you will get from this feature. The last word in Paris and

New York style hints will be brought to you every day and the illustrations are lovely.

But I know you are interested in other things besides styles. Especially, I know, you want to make your home the most attractive spot on earth. Now, we are going to help you. We have secured a series of 24 articles, illustrated with many clear ideas for home decoration.

The names of this feature is "The Decorator's Letter Box," and the name signed to the articles is "Fern Elure." The articles are in the shape of letters from "Fern" to "Beth" and they are just wonderful.

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—(INS)—The plea of Janina Smalinska, "Miss Poland of 1928" and a screen actress, that she be permitted to return to Europe voluntarily so that she may return here legally, as the bride of an American citizen was today forwarded to Washington by local immigration officers.

Miss Smalinska was charged with overstaying a six months' visitor's permit and is facing deportation if deported, she will never be allowed to return to America.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—(INS)—"Ain't love grand" probably expressed the thoughts today of Mae Murray, blond film star, following the announcement that she had become reconciled with her husband, Prince M'Divani.

A Catholic priest who performed their marriage with more freedom than ever to devote to his reconciliation, Miss Murray stated, adding that the prince promised never again to be jealous of her work in the studios.

Miss Murray said she would withdraw the divorce complaint she filed Saturday.

"David and I always have been madly in love with each other," Miss Murray said, "but he found it extremely difficult to adjust himself to the idea of his wife engaging in a career. But good Father Mullins, who married us in June, 1926, brought us together again."

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—(INS)—Bert Roach today had more freedom than ever to devote to his comedy career in the movies. Wednesday he recited his troubles and Gladys M. Roach was handed a divorce in superior court.

Oil Cloth Baskets

Such a clever idea using oil cloth to cover waste baskets for a damp cloth is all that is needed to wipe them off and keep them clean. And the oil cloth has such smart designs. A blue plaid with tiny yellow flowers in the center—gay gypsy stripes and any number of other patterns are featured.

For the Kitchen

They are meant for the kitchen but these gay colored eight day clocks would be very pretty in the living room of a summer cottage. They are electric and cost less than three dollars.

Cedarized Chests

They are something new this year at least we have never seen them before—chests lined with cedar paper and covered on the outside with printed oil cloth. These also are less than three dollars.

Concealed Sewing Machines

Wheat appears to be an extremely good looking low boy, on close inspection proves to be a disguise for an efficient sewing machine. It is of mahogany and is a most attractive piece of furniture.

Refreshment Sets

If you need a new refreshment set and don't want to pay a great deal for it you will be interested in the new sets of hobnail glass which cost less than two dollars. They come in shades of amber, green, blue and white.

To remove scratches from walnut furniture, take a shelled walnut and rub the scratch until the oil from the walnut has penetrated into the wood. Polish with furniture polish applied on a soft cloth.

An electric light bulb is handy to use as a stocking darning.

When using raisins in a cake, cover them with warm water and let stand three minutes. Drain and wash raisins are warm, cut with scissors. They will be moist in the cake when baked.

To remove grass stains from washable materials rub the stain with lard and let stand for several hours. This loosens the coloring matter so it will wash out.

And sister Di—oh, has sent us a letter with so many tricks to tell them that will save her precious time, their precious money, and their precious loveliness. I hardly know where to begin. WOMEN of all NATIONS

LOVE'S PRISONER By Barbara Webb

SYNOPSIS

BETH SHANNON, a pretty young stenographer, is in love with her employer, PHILIP DANE. It isn't a love she can explain or reason about, it just is, in spite of the fact that Phil belongs to another world socially and is interested in a girl of that world.

CAROLINE GIBBONS, just now Beth's chief worry is her invalid mother, widowed and entirely dependent on Beth for support. The doctor has said that MRS. SHANNON should go away—it is January in New York now—and Beth is at her wife's end. She has promised to tell ARNOLD STONE, an older man in the office, very friendly to Beth and her sole means of making contacts outside of her work and her shabby home, what the doctor said of her mother's condition.

CHAPTER XXIV

Good News!

BETH got through that evening, after the ultimatum Dr. Grey had issued, creditably enough. The knowledge that her mother was worse sufficed a new tenderness in the little things she could do for Mrs. Shannon's comfort. She rearranged the bedding, placed the bedside lamp more conveniently, then went to the kitchen to get her mother's supper. The ice box furnished nothing attractive for an invalid and Beth recklessly went down to the store to buy things that would tempt her mother's appetite.

An hour later she carried in a supper tray that attracted even Mrs. Shannon's listless interest. A lamb chop, broiled to just the right turn, a baked potato cooking butter, a tender heart of lettuce, and an orange sliced thin and sprinkled with coconut for dessert. Beth had bought a roebuck and stuck it in a little vase bought at the ten cent store to garnish the tray and she felt rewarded for what really was extravagance by the way Mrs. Shannon smiled and attacked her supper with relish.

"Why didn't you bring your supper in, too?" she asked Beth. "We could have eaten together."

"Oh, I was famished. I simply couldn't wait," Beth replied. "I had mine while I was getting your ready."

"I miss George"

This was true enough as far as it went. Beth had eaten dry bread and stale cheese and an apple while she got her mother's tray ready, except for mother. Beth flashed back to her feet better in her present state of mind to make some small, tangible sacrifice. She felt that she had been selfish lately, had neglected her mother, and indulged herself unduly.

When Mrs. Shannon had finished her supper Beth brought in a new magazine, purchased in this same mood of extravagance and said, "How would you like me to read aloud to you, mother?"

"I'd love it. My, but it's nice to have you home with me this way, Beth. I miss George, you know, he came in every day to see me, even when you were out."

Beth's heart smote her again. She had sent George away, she had spent countless evenings out with Arnold, or busy with rehearsing for the play. And Mrs. Shannon had never complained.

When she had finished the short story she had selected Mrs. Shannon said, "I think your reading aloud has improved wonderfully. Beth, I suppose it's the result of taking part in that play. You speak so much more clearly, and read with so much more expression now. I'd like you to take part in another play if they ask you. Maybe I'll be well enough to come to that one. I feel so much better tonight than I have for several days."

Beth nodded, hoping she could keep back the tears. She knew the truth of her mother's condition, knew that this feeling of improvement was only a temporary thing due to a more cheerful and happier evening than Mrs. Shannon had spent for the last week. But she managed to keep up her own show of good spirits until the lights were out and she was sure her mother was asleep.

Low Ebb

Then the tears came. Beth sobbed into her pillow. Her mother was worse, Phil was away, George had disappeared entirely, she must give up her cherished plan of moving away from the tenement to be nearer Ned and Frances. Everything was at low ebb. Then Beth thought of the letter. Suppose it did contain a sum of money—Beth's favorite surmise—wouldn't she be justified in opening it? She had never needed money so desperately as she did now. Why wait for the entire year to elapse? No one would ever be the wiser, Aunt Maria was dead. Beth got out of bed and opened her pocketbook, where she kept the letter now, and took it out to the kitchen.

Under the light she turned it over and over in her hand.

"To be opened a year from today," and the date of its arrival, October 4, in her own handwriting. No, she couldn't do it. Aunt Maria must have had some reason for bidding her to wait. She'd have to obey that silent command, carry on somehow as though the letter were non-existent except for the hope of the future that it held out.

She went back to her room and finally fell asleep to waken the next morning to the tune of a January blizzard that howled and rushed around the house. She had to fight her way to the office, and arrived spent with the battle through a crowded subway and the struggle against the wind.

Arnold had arrived just ahead of her.

"Wheew," he said, stamping his feet free of snow, "this is good weather for staying before the fire if you ask me. How's your mother, Beth? Any better this morning?"

"She was still asleep when I left. I put all her breakfast things by her bed, but I hope she'll sleep until noon. She often does when she's feeling very unwell."

"What did the doctor tell you?" Beth looked down at the handkerchief she was twisting in her hand. She mustn't cry.

"Oh, I was famished. I simply couldn't wait," Beth replied. "I had mine while I was getting your ready."

into my private office and let me tell you about it. Don't come now, we've both got early morning work to finish. Come in about 10, and we'll talk it over."

Arnold's Plan

So at 10 o'clock, Beth went in, reluctantly determined to resist any offer of what she felt would be charity if Arnold wanted to advance the necessary money himself. "Ever hear of banks, Beth?" he asked, smiling at her and motioning her to a chair.

"Of course, I have," she answered, wondering, "I have a savings account in one myself."

"Well, did it ever occur to you that a bank's business is loaning money? Rent's it, in fact, at a fixed rate of interest to people who need the use of it?"

"I didn't suppose they'd loan money to any one like me," Beth said, slowly.

"They will if you can get some responsible person to sign your note with you. Now the simplest thing would be for me to loan you, say, $500, but you wouldn't like that. The next best thing is for you to borrow that amount and pay it back in weekly installments. Suppose you borrow $500 and take two years to pay it back. They take out $80 interest, I advance and give you the rest, $440. You pay them $5 out of your salary each week—it's as simple as that, Beth. And you can pay it back faster if you like."

Beth drew a long breath. "Do you really think they would?" she asked.

"Nothing like finding out. Let's go out and have some lunch this noon and I go over there and talk to the man in charge of loans. Maybe that will convince you."

It all happened just as Arnold had said, though Beth didn't realize how much his endorsement of her note had to do with the ease with which the transaction went through. She came away with the promise that by closing time the next day there would be more than $200 to her credit in the bank, sufficient to get her mother south and to keep her there until spring at least.

"You're an angel," she told Arnold feelingly.

"Of course I am. And I'm not through yet; the next angelic thing I expect to accomplish is to get you out of the hole you're living in and some place out near your friends Ned and Frances, for example. It wouldn't do for you to stay there alone, Beth."

Beth agreed with him absently. Most of her mind was fixed on the wonderful news she would have to take home to Mrs. Shannon. She would stop at Dr. Grey's house and tell him what had happened. He would help her make arrangements, she knew—and Mrs. Shannon would have a new lease of life.

But I have got a plan, Beth—come

TILDEN BEATS KOZELUH IN DES MOINES EXHIBITION

RUTH SLOWS UP BUT PROVES HE CAN STILL HIT

Bambino's 30th Home Run Helps Yankees Beat A's, 5-3

By COPELAND C. BURG
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK—The decline and fall of Mr. George Herman Ruth, who appears to be one of those things just around the corner—that is, over, but not yet in sight.

They say Mr. Ruth's legs have about as much spring in them as a lead dollar and that even as early as next year poor Manager Joe McCarthy will face the bitter task of putting the great man on the bench.

But the gents who mourn have little to say about Mr. Ruth's hitting. Of course, he will be lucky if he crashes home No. 50 this season, but except for his steamboat, Lou Gehrig, there isn't a soul in either league who will come close to that number. And don't overlook the fact Ruth is leading both leagues in hitting.

Babe Hitting .384 He poked home No. 30 yesterday as the Yankees humbled the champion Athletics, 5 to 3 and is now one home behind Gehrig. He also got another hit in four times at bat and is raking .384, two points ahead of Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals, topping the national slugging, is more than 30 points behind Ruth.

Tilden's no denying George has slowed up considerably and isn't the gate attraction of former years, but he'll have to slump fearfully in batting to join such clay-footed men as Hack Wilson. Unless he breaks an arm and a leg, Ruth won't retire in 1932 or '33 and we don't think in '34, either.

Marberry was reached for only four safeties, while Washington strong men cracked 20 hits and avenged the Red Sox of Boston, 15 to 1.

Phil Beat Giants John Berly appeared to pitch for the New York Giants against Philadelphia wearing an old red shirt and before he took off the thing the enemy got a base on balls, three doubles and a single. John removed the shirt in the third and staggered on until the sixth when Parmelee went in, but the change of shirts and pitchers came too late and J. Elliott and his gang won, 6 to 4.

The culture and heat of Boston failed to effect the rough and ready Robins. Brooklyn and they flew to a 7 to 3 victory over the Braves. Heron, and Frederick aided Fletcher Lugo with three hits each.

Douglas, Beebe and Stripp, Hendrix's sacrifice and a long fly by Cuccinello, plus a wild home by Spencer, won for the Cincy Reds over the Pirates, 3 to 2. It was the Reds first triumph in eight games.

Indians Win Another Walking your ball game back home was demonstrated by the Cleveland Indians to snatch one from Detroit, 4 to 3. Vic Sorrell was the kindly one who walked four in the ninth to force the winning run for Cleveland.

A homer by Carl Reynolds and son, other fancy whacking gave the White Sox of Chicago four runs in the seventh and a final 7 to 0 whipping of the St. Louis Browns. Tommy Thomas, who replaced the away, got credit for the pitching effort.

Downey's Boosters Will Battle Metal Works Team Aug. 17

Downey's Boosters, who were twice compelled to postpone their regularly scheduled Factory League engagement with the Iowa Metal Works team, will play the Metal Works team on Monday, August 17, on the new diamond at Weed park. A. J. Lindley of the Y. M. C. A. announced this morning.

The game was originally scheduled for July 29 but due to the death of one of the Booster players, Van Dorn, the game was postponed a week. Lindley then set the date for last Wednesday but the death of J. L. Giesler again caused the postponement of the game. The Boosters need the win as it will keep them in a tie with the Heinz players and give them a chance to win the league next week at the Jefferson field when the two teams hook up in the last game on the schedule.

EIGHT OF A'S BEST MEN COST ONLY $385,000

Mack Got Jimmy Foxx For $2,500; Dykes For His Fare

Many fans often refer to the machine-like Philadelphia Athletics as a five-man team because of the fact that Bob Grove, George Earnshaw, Mickey Cochran, Al Simmons and Jimmy Foxx stand head and shoulders above all the rest. This reference might, however, be re-christened an eight-man club when one considers the cost of the five stars.

An even $450,000 was put up by Connie Mack and his associates to get every player on his roster. The sum paid for just eight of the roster, Grove, Simmons, Hays, Mahaffey, Bolger, Cochran, Bishop and Earnshaw amounts to just 85 percent of this sum or $385,000. However, notice that the names of the above eight do not include that of Jimmy Foxx, the Maryland farmer boy, who came to the big leagues from the Eastern shore circuit for the paltry sum of $2,500.

Trade Brings Miller Mack got Jimmy Dykes for just his trolley fare from Oakland, which is about 15 miles from Philadelphia. Bing Miller, the Vinton, Iowa, boy who made good in the big show, was obtained in a trade while Dykes, having been paid $100,000 for Grove and $50,000 apiece for Earnshaw and Bishop.

It is needless to say that Big George, Robert Mose, and Maxie have justified Mack's faith in their ability and that they were cheap at twice the price. Grove, with 20 victories to his credit so far this season, may set a modern record for games won. He is bent on breaking the record of 34 wins set some 19 years ago by Smokey Joe Wood. No southpaw in modern baseball has won 30 games in one season, so Mose will set at least one record if he reaches the three times ten mark.

The best old Rube Waddell could ever do was to win 27 in one season, and Eddie Plank chalked up 26. Both men were members of the Philadelphia American League club.

Marquard Flivvered Out At the outset of the 1912 season, Rube Marquard, of the New York Giants, had 19 victories in the record books before the season was half over. The Rube had great change to break a record, but he flivvered out in the bag end of the season and closed the campaign with only 22 wins to his credit.

Grove has a few more years to go before he will take rank with the immortals of the mound. He may go on winning for the next eight or ten years as consistently as he has during the past few, but then again, he may grow weary under the strain of his fast ball and step aside for younger blood.

Earnshaw stands a better chance of remaining in the big top longer than Grove, for George has a powerful physique and does not seem to tire as easily as his mate.

WIGHTMAN CUP SERIES OPENS
Tennis Queen Doped To Defeat British Star Today
By MICHAEL J. FOSTER
INS Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y.—Uncle Sam will be seeking an even break with his time-honored rival, John Bull, this afternoon, when England and the United States come to grips in the opening singles match of their ninth annual Wightman Cup series at Forest Hills.

Uncle Sam today sends Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, his world's champion, against Miss Phyllis Mudford in the No. 1 singles match and this is one time he won't be trumped. After Queen Helen finishes polishing the little Mudford girl off, Helen Jacobs will take the court, against Betty Nuthall in the No. 2 singles tilt. Mrs. Lawrence Harper will complete the day's program meeting Doty Round in the third singles.

Tomorrow it will be Miss Jacobs against Miss Mudford and Mrs. Moody vs. Miss Nuthall in the concluding singles, with Mrs. George W. Wightman and Sara Palfrey playing Shepherd-Barron and Mrs. Mudford, and Mrs. Moody and Mrs. Harper facing Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whitlingstall and Miss Nuthall in the two doubles matches.

As in the past few years, the burden of scoring those singles victories seems to rest squarely upon the two Helens. Helen the first can be depended upon to beat the Misses Mudford and Nuthall, but what's worrying you Uncle Sam is whether his Berkeley Helen can also deliver.

Mrs. Harper, despite her No. 1 ranking, is no better than even favorite with Miss Round in their No. 3 singles tilt.

BAPTISTS BEAT COURTHOUSE AT JEFFERSON, 5-4

Chevrolets Win From Freights in Hard Contest, 10-6

Two lowly teams in the American league standings staged a close battle at Jefferson field Thursday evening with the Baptist kitchenball players emerging the winners through a spurt in the last inning which provided the necessary run to win over the Courthouse Demons, 5 to 4.

In the National league game at the diamond at Weed park, the M. & W. Chevies nosed out the Freights through a last inning rally, 10 to 6. The Factory league engagement on the new diamond at Weed park found the McKee team walloping the Automatics, 12 to 2.

The Baptist-Courthouse game was featured by the good fielding of both teams. Neither team made an error until the fifth inning when two Baptist errors permitted the losers to score two runs and knot the count at 4 all going into the last of the fifth. In the Baptist turn at bat the first two men up drove out angles but Smith was forced at third on the next play. However, Hoekema lived on an error putting men on first and third and Shiley, the next batter, singled to left to score R. Schoemaker with the winning run.

Clarke Leading Hitter Neither team scored in the first two innings but in the third the winners crossed the plate with four tallies on three doubles and two singles. The losers scored their first two runs in the fourth on a double and three singles. Clarke, Courthouse shortstop, led both teams in hitting with two blows in an many trips to the plate.

M. & W. players found tough opposition in the Freights at Weed park but came out on top by scoring four runs in the first half of the fifth on four singles, a walk and an error. The winners started the fireworks in the first inning when they scored two runs on a double by Tucker, and an error by O'Keefe and O'Hair. They came back with two more in the second on two singles, an error and a fielder's choice.

They added one more to their total in the third and fourth innings before staging their big rally in the fifth. The Freights waited until the last of the fourth to score five runs on four singles, a sacrifice and an error. They scored their sixth run in the last of the fifth on a single, a walk and an error. Extra Stand Being Erected for Crowd At Tennis Tourney

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y.—(INS)—Carpenters were busy erecting an extra stand on the north side of the center court in front of the Meadow Club veranda this morning, preparing for what is expected to be one of the largest crowds ever to witness the semi-final matches in the club's annual invitation tennis tournament.

Ellsworth Vines, the Pasadena cyclone, who swept through the national clay court, Longwood and Seabright tournaments, is to meet George Lott in the feature "semi" this afternoon, and Gregory Mangin, the Newark boy, who beat Johnny Doe, national champion, on Wednesday, is to clash with Clifford Sutter, fifth ranking player of the country, in the other penultimate round tilt.

MACK MAY PUT SOME STARS ON AUCTION BLOCK

Manager of Athletics Hints Dismantling Of Champions

By LES CONKLIN
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK—Does Connie Mack intend to repeat his astounding move of 1914 and dismantle his championship club, regarded by many as the greatest baseball machine of all time?

Will some of the great stars of the athletics—Grove, Earnshaw, Simmons, Cochran or Foxx—be put on the auction block and sold to other American leagues?

"I can't talk about it just now," Mack said smilingly. "That's all I can tell you."

Any such announcement is made, it will be made in Philadelphia. And forthwith, Connie dashed off to a dinner engagement, just in time to dodge a dozen other pointed questions.

If Connie retains his present club and wins the pennant this year and next, he will set a new American league record by winning four consecutive pennants. And if the A's capture the world series this fall, he will have won three consecutive world championships, something that never has been accomplished by a major league club.

RAY TRAMBLE BEATS HANSEN
Norway Boxer Rallies Too Late to Catch Up With Rival

CHICAGO—(INS)—Fight fans were still surprised today at the unexpected prowess displayed by Ray Trumble, Rockford, Ill., middleweight. Last night he secured a decisive ten-round triumph over Haakon Hansen of Norway in the featured bout at Shrewsbury field.

Hansen was floored in the first round with a right to the jaw, but refused to take the count. He was in trouble again in the second when Trumble shot out a stiff left. Although Hansen rallied in the latter part of the fight, he was unable to catch up with his opponent.

Glenn Camp, Kewanee, Ill., lightweight, beat Paddy Wallier, Chicago, in the six round semi-windup. Young Sugley, also of Kewanee, defeated Mickey O'Shea in six rounds.

HARD JOB
Eddie Hirschberg, captain of the 1931 Pitt football team, must work hard to clinch a regular position at end. He must make the most of his freshman year, and hasn't been a regular end at any time.

Oscar Smith, owner of the Toledo club, is trying to sell. He bought the club several years ago from Joe O'Brien and Roger Bresnahan.

BIG BILL WINS TWO SETS FROM CZECH, 6-2, 6-3

World Tennis Champ Proves He Is Far From Through

By FRANK CRANE
INS Sports Writer

DES MOINES—(INS)—Seven hundred Des Moines sport fans are talking today—talking about William T. Tilden II, and Karel Kozeluh.

The world's professional champ and his troupe, including Kozeluh, the Czechoslovakian whom Tilden swept from the throne; Emmet Pare, Dayton, Ohio, youth who has held the national clay courts championship; and Bobby Sellers of San Francisco, exhibited their talents for the eager Des Moines spectators.

Tilden took two sets from the little Czech, who seemed to be considerably bothered by Iowa's hot dry weather, and was given the match when Kozeluh decided that he had had enough of Big Bill and the heat for one afternoon. The match, which, of course, was merely by exhibition, went to Tilden, 6-2, 6-3, default.

Pare Also Meaten Tilden then took on Pare for a set, sweeping the graceful Ohio youth aside, 6-2. Bobby Sellers also defeated Pare, 6-2, in their preliminary to the Tilden-Kozeluh affair. Tilden and Kozeluh downed Pare and Sellers, 14-12, 8-6.

Tilden, in spite of any reports to the contrary, is still playing the brand of tennis that makes Davis Cup champions. His service still has its speed and accuracy; his powerful drives still have their zip; his chops and slices are still potent; and his attack is just as cunning, his mind works just as swiftly, as when Big Bill ruled the courts of the world as the United States' No. 1 Davis Cup player.

The stamina of the handsome Philadelphiaan, his swiftness of foot (really do not do him justice) is remarkable. The only indication that he noticed the heat of a hot August afternoon in Iowa were an occasional sigh and still less frequent mopping of his brow.

Heat Bothers Kozeluh Kozeluh, on the other hand, seemed to feel the heat very much. After two sets with the lanky champ, Karel had just about "shot his wad." The heat had just gotten under his skin that he was forced to rest while Tilden and Pare played their set. When he came back for the doubles play, however, he was able to give a good account of himself in spite of his handicap.

Notwithstanding the heat that was sapping his strength as much as Tilden's corner—Karel made the big boy work for every thing he got. More than once he passed the almost invulnerable easterner with beautiful shots which drew ejaculations of admiration from his spectators. His shot lacked their wanted power and speed, however, and his feet legs were not quite what they should have been.

The blond Ohio youth showed up well against Big Bill, and their set was by no means a walkaway.

The Medical Trust Exposed

BY NORMAN BAKER

This is the eleventh installment of a serial article which will appear daily in the Midwest Free Press

Knowing these facts as we do, and knowing that the heads of the medical trust know them, it is almost impossible to believe that anyone would raise a hand against, or place an obstacle in the path of those who are successfully treating cancer. If you would dig down deep into the real situation, you would find there is a reason for all things. It is reported that cancer operations alone net each year about $82,000,000 for the surgeons of the medical trust. Regarding that $82,000,000 worth of operations, we feel that it is safe to say that a large percentage of them are useless; that the physicians know before operating that they cannot do any good for the patient but cut into the abdominal walls (in case the cancer is located there), take out a slice, put it under a microscope and give the patient the satisfaction of knowing that he is dying of cancer.

The public in general, little realizes or knows what a hard battle this is, how vicious the medical trust becomes when they step upon its toes. Senator Harris of Georgia, a Democrat, is connected with one committee that is investigating regarding the control of cancer, with the thought perhaps of appropriating some of the taxpayers' money for the control of cancer. It would be quite natural to assume that if this money is appropriated much of it would go to those in California who are now paying the expenses of the two cancer experimenters—Dr. Coffey and Dr. Humber. Their expenses, some claim, are paid by the Southern Pacific Railway.

Now comes an astounding development in that senate cancer investigation. Norman Baker of Muscatine, Iowa, who is waging the fight against the medical trust, wired Senator Johnson of California asking permission for two of his associates and himself to appear before this Committee and give testimony regarding a cure for cancer. To this wire, Senator Johnson replied that the matter had been turned over to Senator Harris of Georgia. Senator Harris wired that the committee was "not interested in learning of a cure for cancer, but that they were interested in seeking a method of controlling cancer."

Ye Gods! If a forest were burning up, and the flames of fire were leaping by jumps and bounds over the forest destroying millions and millions of dollars of fine timberland, and an army of fighters were around the outskirts of that forest fire, each with a hose with water to play upon the blaze and extinguish it, would they stand there and say, "we are not interested in putting out this forest fire but we will squirt the water on the forest a hundred miles away so it cannot catch fire"? This situation would be just as nonsensical as the one which exists in this committee "seeking the control of cancer." Anyone who is seeking to control cancer should be interested in a cure for same, because that is the most effective method of controlling cancer. This is something for the public to seriously reflect upon; and so far, we have not received an invitation for any member of the editorial staff of this magazine to appear before the Senate Committee in this investigation.

I am in receipt of a letter from a lady in Washington, D. C., which states that she was testifying before that committee when which Senator Harris has to do, and that Senator Johnson of California arose from his seat at the table, as though not interested in what the lady had to say, because she was pounding the medical trust; and there he stood—laughing, joking, talking and paying no attention whatsoever to the witness who was testifying. And other senators arose, paying no attention to her, and finally, the letter states, she was cut off and permitted to talk only ten minutes before the Committee. In the face of this fact, others who testified before the Committee and who were not against the medical trust, were allowed unlimited time.

The Constitution of the United States says that our citizens shall have freedom of speech, freedom of the press and freedom of religion—it is too bad it did not contain a clause giving us medical freedom. While it gives us freedom of speech, it doesn't seem that some of the senatorial committees are extending that right or even courtesy to the citizens of America.

Step Aside, Slowpoke, Cries Golfer; So Capone Steps!

CHICAGO, Ill.—(Special)—If your husband leaves his bacon and eggs and dashes for the first train out-of-town after reading his paper at breakfast this morning, the chances are that he has just discovered he's the hero of this story!

An impatient Chicago golfer was clamoring to play through a slow foursome ahead a few days ago at the Berrien Hills Country Club at Benton Harbor, Mich. At the seventh hole he lost his temper, as the tale was told last night by Matthew Jans, the club's professional, when he returned to his home in Evanston for a visit.

"One side, slowpokes!" growled the irate Chicagoan. "Get out. Scram. You ought to spend your time on the practice course." The slow foursome obediently stood aside and allowed the Chicagoan to play through. Then the foursome resumed their match. Their leader was Al Capone.

Lee Young Tells Some Truthful Experiences—and a Fish Story

Dear Midwest Free Press:

We are back home again. Yes, the Mrs. and two grand sons. Made up my mind, as the fish had quit biting, that I wanted to come home. So we packed up Sunday morning, started at 7:10, got home at 5:30, 325 miles. And now after resting up for two days by mowing the lawn and pulling about a wagon load of weeds, I find myself physically and morally in fine shape, but not so good financially and mentally.

As you were good enough to publish my previous letter, perhaps I can get you to inflict the readers of the Free Press with some more of my experiences on this trip. On the way up I stopped at a Cedar Rapids filling station for gas. A very pleasant, intelligent-looking young man came out to wait on me. He noticed my number plate and asked me if I was from Muscatine. I told him I was and he began to inquire about K-TNT and the Baker hospital.

I asked him if he knew anything about the Baker Hospital and he said, "I should say I do. They saved my mother's life down there." He said she had been sick for some time, unable to do any work. The doctors gave her up to die, unless she had an operation. He said she had been home three months doing her own work in fine shape. I asked him what he would do if some one told him the Baker hospital was a fake. He said, "I'd—them, I would tell them plenty."

We camped at Clear Lake that night. I got in conversation with a man on the camp ground and he wanted to know what kind of work people we had in Muscatine to let as good a thing as K-TNT be put off the air I told him to the best of my ability and I flatter myself I have some ability in telling what I think of some of the people like we have in Muscatine. So I will not repeat what I said as you would not print it.

At several places I was asked the same question. Some would say, "Muscatine, that's where K-TNT is." I was up here some years ago before K-TNT was on the air and I had a plate on my car with Muscatine on it and I had to explain that that wasn't a disease but the name of a town. Now every one knows it.

At Mankato where I went to get a supply of grub, I told the proprietor where I was from and he asked me about the Baker Hospital.

Buffalo Prairie

BUFFALO PRAIRIE, Ill.—(Special)—Mrs. John Mayhew and Mrs. Adam Mader were in Rock Island Monday to call on their sister, Mrs. Will Hyett who underwent an operation at St. Anthony's hospital. Mrs. Mayhew spent Tuesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Branch.

Mrs. Roy Henderson and children of near Muscatine are visiting this week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edson Mader.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bell and daughter of Aleo were Monday supper guests at the Hayes Bell home.

Said his wife was at Rochester. Doctors said she must have an operation or die. After talking with him a while, he said he wished he had taken her to the Baker hospital as he was not getting along very satisfactorily.

Well I started to tell a fish story, but so far I have told only the absolute truth. Of course, what follows is the truth but what I use to say so. As one party said when told I was a truthful fisherman, "there ain't no such animal."

And now listen, you fishermen. I had with me a very large fish, animal or "squirrel" as Andy would say. In the first place I want to explain that I did not catch it with anything but artificial bait. I will fish with anything I can catch them on, live bait or even squirming worms, like Cal Coolidge. The expert laughed at him for using worms to fish for trout but he delivered the goods.

On the other hand, I understand that Hoover only uses artificial bait. In other words, he is an expert and see what he has done with us, for us, or to us.

Well to go on with my experience. One day while out casting with a weedless hook, which I bought at Bond's Sport shop, I had been at it for about two hours, working where I had seen a 15-pounder caught a few days before and was getting rather tired, but thought I would try once more. So I let her go and made a beautiful cast of about 100 feet when "squirrel" took it and kept on going to the end of my line. And, to the best of my knowledge, he is still going. So with a few blankety blank and other expressions familiar to fishermen and golf players, I reeled in my line, examined the hook, found it straightened out and discovered, imbedded in the wood-part of the lure, what appears to be the tooth of a monstrous fish.

Remember, I am not saying it is the tooth of a fish but will say I would give 25 bucks to land a fish with a tooth like that. And if any of you expert fishermen want to pass judgment on this story you will find the evidence in the window at Bond's Sport shop.

But remember, I am not going to pay anyone to believe this fish story but you do know I am the original truthful fisherman because I said so.

Yours very truly,
Lee Young.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Vetter and son Fred called Sunday on Charles Peterson of Wanlock.

Mrs. Minerva Marston of Aleo visited over Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Bivens and family.

Mrs. John Burrows of Aleo was a Monday supper guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mader. J. L. Vetter of Rock Island spent Monday at the home of his son, Sylvester Vetter.

A number of men attended the funeral of Raymond Pender in Aleo Tuesday afternoon.

Help Jobless Or Face Dole, Strawn Warns President Hoover

WASHINGTON—Unless President Hoover does something to meet the employment crisis before Congress meets that body will be swamped with more social legislation, including the dole, S. H. Strawn, Chicago, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, warned the President today. Strawn said he is convinced the situation this winter will be more acute than last, and the number of unemployed far greater. He said, however, he believed the estimate of the gravity of the situation, it was the American Federation of Labor, that the number of jobless would reach 7,000,000 is "perhaps a little exaggerated."

With Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of the chamber, Strawn called to inform the President a special committee on unemployment had been formed in charge of Henry H. Harriman, Boston.

Strawn said his committee, just created, would make a complete survey of the country through local chambers of commerce. The committee will report to the President September 1.

The President is "fully alive" to the gravity of the situation, it was said, and will do everything possible to prevent dole legislation. Just what steps he will take, however, beyond what has already been done, has not been decided, it was stated.

SAUL CONVERTED AND COMMISSIONED

LESSON TEXT—Acts 9:1-19; Timothy 1:12-14. GOLDEN TEXT—Whereupon, O King Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision. PRIMARY TOPIC—Saul Chosen to Be a Missionary. JUNIOR TOPIC—Saul Chosen a Missionary to the Gentiles. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Vision and a Response. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Saul's Conversion and Commission.

I. Saul's Violent Hatred of the Lord's Disciples (vv. 1, 2.)

Saul knew full well that unless the movement set on foot by Jesus was stopped it would supersede Judaism. The noble display of faith by Stephen in sealing his testimony with his blood did not soften Saul's spirit, but rather intensified his hatred for the Lord and his whom thou persecutest," as if to say that persecution of the disciples is persecution of Jesus.

3. Saul's Inquiry (v. 3.) "What wilt thou have me to do?" The Lord told him to go into the city where information would be given him as to what he must do.

4. Saul entering Damascus (vv. 7-9). The proud persecutor went humbly into Damascus, led by his attendants. For the space of three days he remained blind, and fasted. What went on in his soul in those days no mortal can know. Doubtless in this time he got hold of the truths which he later proclaimed to the world, for his conversion was the basal fact of his theology. The day is coming when all men shall behold the dazzling glory of the Son, either in salvation or in condemnation (Phil. 2:10, 11; Rev. 6:15-17).

III. Saul Ministered to by Ananias (vv. 10-19). The Lord appeared to him and instructed him to go to Saul. He gave him the name of the streets and Saul's host, and informed him that Saul was now a praying man and that he had prepared Saul by a vision for the coming of Ananias. The Lord knew of the name of the street and the number of the house in which his chosen lived.

2. Ananias' fear and hesitancy (vv. 13-16). He knew of Saul's ministry and the authority by which he came. The Lord encouraged him to go, assuring him that Saul was no longer an enemy before the Gentiles, kings, and the children of Israel, and that the badge of his commission should be great suffering for Christ.

3. Ananias' obedience (v. 17). His fears being removed, Ananias went to the house where Saul was stopping, put his hand upon him as brother. The hitherto savage and affectionately addressed him Christ. Ananias informed him persecutor is now a brother in that the Lord had sent him with a twofold mission:

a. "That thou mightest receive thy sight."

b. "Be filled with the Holy Ghost." He received his sight forthwith.

4. Saul baptized (vv. 18, 19). After Saul received his sight, Ananias baptized him. The Lord bestows the gift of the Spirit upon whomsoever he will, and may designate anyone, whether occupying an official position or not, to lay hands upon individuals.

IV. Saul Put into the Ministry (I Tim. 1:12-14). He was commissioned for his work among the Gentiles by Jesus Christ. He did not enter the Christian ministry, but was placed there by the sovereign act of the Lord. He was transformed from a blasphemer and a persecutor through the mediating grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and made the apostle to the Gentiles.

The Gospel. The great commission does not bid us adapt the Gospel to every creature, but to preach the Gospel to every creature. The Gospel of the first century is the dynamic of God unto salvation in the Twentieth century.—Dr. F. W. Farr.

VICTORY OR DEFEAT

IT'S ALL IN THE STATE OF MIND

If you think you are beaten, you are; if you think you dare not, you don't; if you would like to win, but think you can't, it's almost a cinch you won't. If you think you'll lose, you're lost for out in the world you'll find, Success begins with a fellow's will. It's all in the state of mind. Full many a race is lost, ere a step is run; and many a coward fails, ere ever his work is begun. Think big and your deeds will grow. Think small and you'll fall behind; think that you can and you WILL—IT'S ALL IN STATE OF MIND. If you think you're outclassed, you are. You've got to think high to rise. You've got to feel sure of yourself, before you can ever win a prize. Life's battles don't always go to the stronger and faster man; but sooner or later the man who WINS, is the fellow who thinks he Can.
